A results-driven Conservation Communications Consultant who turns complex ideas into compelling stories. As a writer, editor and communications strategist with a background in conservation and ecology, I develop and execute content plans that deliver – from research-led reports and search engine-optimised articles to social media campaigns, newsletters, popular publications, skilled technical and integrated reports, and websites. I simplify science for any audience and rapidly learn new skills (basic design, layout, video editing) to produce polished, impactful work.

I have a Masters in Social Ecology and my background encompasses hands-on conservation work, including biodiversity stewardship, urban ecology projects, ecological research, environmental management, and fostering stakeholder relationships.

I am passionate about driving positive change through effective communication. I now leverage my diverse skill set in the social and natural sciences, along with communications and marketing, to develop impactful communication campaigns to promote behaviour change for conservation. WORK EXPERIENCE (CONTINUED)

Project Coordinator – Education for Sustainability (Mar 2019–May 2020)

- I developed and coordinated the EWT's Guardians of the Future Programme in South African schools. This included the strategic development of practical and engaging learning materials that were aligned with the curriculum and required learning processes, and the training of teachers to integrate them seamlessly into classroom lessons with minimal resources.

Urban Conservation Project Coordinator (Jan 2014–Feb 2019)

- Coordinated the Gauteng Biodiversity Stewardship Programme, an NGO-government partnership between the EWT and the Gauteng Department of Agriculture and Rural Development. The programme capacitated government officials to expand land under formal protection through partnerships with private and community landowners.
 - Duties included: Project management, administrative and logistical work, budget management, proposal writing, stakeholder engagement, reporting to donors and partners, and maintaining partnerships.
 - Desktop research, ecological field assessments (veld condition assessments, wildlife censuses, evaluation of ecosystem services potential, etc.), database management, GIS mapping, compilation of Environmental Management Plans for protected areas.
- Developed curriculum-based Education for Sustainable Development (ESD) content for learners and coordinated ESD projects.

Conservation Science Intern (Oct 2012–Dec 2013)

- Interned for the Head of Conservation, conducting research, compiling technical reports, writing funding proposals, working with programmes, and conducting administrative work.

Assistant Manager of the Modderfontein Reserve Jan 2012–Oct 2012

- Oversaw ecological research and environmental management of the reserve

TSHWANE UNIVERSITY OF TECHNOLOGY (2012)

Tutorial and Practical Training Coordinator Jan 2012–Dec 2012

- Coordinated tutoring schedules for Nature Conservation Students
- Assisted in practical training excursions for Nature Conservation and Game Ranch Management students

SUNWAY SAFARIS (FEBRUARY 2007–OCTOBER 2007)

Overland Safari Guide
